

Bad Jack Horner

Bad Jack Horner

Sat in a corner

Pulling the wings off a fly.

He swore at his mum,

Kicked his dad in the bum

And said, 'Oh, what a bad boy am I!'

Bad Humpty Dumpty

Humpty Dumpty spray-painted the wall
He covered it with his offensive scrawl.
All the King's horses and all the King's men Confiscated his spray-can and smashed his head in.

Bad Diddle Diddle

Bad diddle diddle

The cat did a piddle

The cow did a poo on the moon.

The little dog barfed to see such fun

And then ate it all up with a spoon.

The Bad Ant

Once upon a time there was an ant. It looked like an ordinary ant, but it wasn't. It was a bad ant.

And the bad ant
went along the ground and came to a stick.

And the bad ant
went up the stick. And the bad ant went over the stick.
And the bad ant went down the stick.

And the bad ant went along the ground and came to a bit of grass. And the bad ant went up the bit of grass. And the bad ant went over the bit of grass. And the bad ant went down the bit of grass.

And then it stopped.

And then it started again.

And the bad ant went to Las Vegas,

won ten million dollars

and bought a red sportscar.

And the bad ant
left Las Vegas
and came to a stick.
And the bad ant drove up the stick.
And the bad ant drove over the stick.
And the bad ant drove down the stick.

And the bad ant went along the ground
and came to a pedestrian crossing and saw an old lady who had fallen over.

And the bad ant drove up the old lady.
And the bad ant drove over the old lady.
And the bad ant drove down the old lady.

And just as the bad ant was about to drive off along the road again, it heard the old lady cry out for help. And the bad ant turned around and drove back to the old lady, drove up the old lady and did wheelies on her head. Which wasn't very nice. But not really surprising, because it was a bad ant. A very bad ant.

THE END

Joan Purst

There was a loud girl named Joan Purst
Who always yelled and cursed.
She'd curse and she'd yell
As loud as all hell,
Until everyone's eardrums were burst.

Greedy Little Grace

There was a greedy little girl
Called Greedy Little Grace
Who liked to shovel food non-stop
Into her greedy face.

Her parents said, 'Oh Gracie dear,
Must you eat like that?'
But Greedy Little Grace just laughed
And ate the family cat.

Her mother cried, 'My lovely cat!
I'm really going to miss her!'
But Greedy Little Grace just burped
And ate her little sister.

Her father yelled, 'This gluttony
is not good for your health!'
But Greedy Grace just licked her lips
And then she ate herself.
